The Students of Avanathi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Cherukupally, Organized an program on TREE PLANTATION PROGRAM on 23-08-2022. Programs for planting trees are essential for preserving the ecosystem, enhancing biodiversity, and halting climate change. To keep the environment and humans in a state of balance, trees emit oxygen into the atmosphere and absorb carbon dioxide. Trees support biodiversity by serving as homes for a wide range of creatures. Trees aid in reducing soil salinity and preserving a balanced water table. Programs for planting trees can be used as instructional tools to increase public knowledge of the value of trees and the environment. The occasion provided as an illustration of the critical role that academic institutions may play in encouraging constructive social change.
