Women Empowerment Cell, of Avanathi institute of pharmaceutical sciences has organized a webinar on the theme on “A Webinar on Achieving a Well-Balanced Life” on 29-10-2020. The resource person of this session was Dr K. Swathi Priya M. Pharm PhD. The primary aims of the session were to emphasize the significance of self-assessment, inspire female students to pursue their desired careers, and encourage them to maintain a harmonious equilibrium between their personal and professional lives. The importance of the webinar says A balanced life encompasses harmonious integration of various facets such as career, relationships, physical health, mental well-being, and personal fulfillment. Striking this equilibrium requires conscious efforts to prioritize and allocate time and energy to different aspects of life. A well-rounded approach involves nurturing meaningful connections with family and friends, pursuing personal passions, maintaining a healthy lifestyle through regular exercise and proper nutrition, and fostering mental resilience through practices like mindfulness and stress management. Attaining a balance between work and leisure is crucial, as is setting realistic goals and boundaries. A well-balanced life not only contributes to physical health but also enhances emotional and mental stability, fostering a sense of fulfillment and purpose. It enables individuals to navigate challenges more effectively, experience joy in their accomplishments, and cultivate a resilient mindset in the face of adversity. 85 both male and female students attended the webinar. Ultimately, the pursuit of balance is an ongoing, dynamic process, requiring self-reflection, adaptability, and a commitment to personal well-being. 85 students actively participated in the webinar.

The institute organized an art competition for students on importance of girl education, in the seminar hall at 10:00 am on 24-01-2021. Organizing an art competition centered on the importance of girl education is a powerful way to amplify the significance of empowering girls through knowledge and learning. Art serves as a compelling medium to convey messages, and such a competition can provide a platform for artists to creatively express the transformative impact of education on the lives of girls. By highlighting the various facets of girl education, including its role in breaking societal norms, fostering empowerment, and promoting gender equality, artists can contribute to a broader conversation on the importance of providing equal educational opportunities to girls. This initiative not only celebrates creativity but also raises awareness about the challenges girls face in accessing education and the positive ripple effects education can have on communities and societies. Through artistic expression, the competition can inspire advocacy and action, encouraging a collective commitment to ensuring that every girl has the opportunity to unlock her full potential through education. Ultimately, the art competition becomes a catalyst for change, emphasizing the profound importance of investing in and supporting the education of girls for a brighter, more equitable future. Women empowerment cell has organized awareness Program on Women health issues during COVID-19 on the theme “Coping Up and Managing Women Related Health Issues during COVID Pandemic Era” on 13-02-2021. Dr.M.Geetha priyanka BDS MDS was the speaker. The webinar was organized to address the unique challenges faced by college students, particularly women, in managing their health during the ongoing pandemic. Coping with and managing women-related health issues during the COVID-19 pandemic era has taken on heightened significance as the global health crisis has posed unique challenges for women's well-being. Moreover, the pandemic's impact on mental health, with increased stress and anxiety, can exacerbate pre-existing women's health conditions. She explained about the issues like maternal mental health, reproductive health, and domestic violence have surfaced as critical areas needing attention. As healthcare systems adapt to the challenges of the pandemic, it is essential for healthcare providers, and communities to prioritize women's health services, ensuring that access to reproductive healthcare, mental health support, and resources for those facing domestic violence remains uninterrupted. She additionally explained about, empowering women with information and resources for self-care and advocating for inclusive and gender-sensitive healthcare systems are crucial steps in mitigating the impact of the pandemic on women's health and fostering resilience in these challenging times. 90 students attended the program. The program aimed to provide insights, guidance, and strategies for coping with various women's health issues in the context of COVID-19, to provide practical strategies for managing physical and mental health, including stress, anxiety, and isolation and to raise awareness about the impact of the pandemic on reproductive health, mental well-being, and overall health.
