Seminar on “ Data Collection Techniques in conducting Scientific research-A Detailed overview” organized by the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences was inaugurated by Dr. Santosh Kumar Rada, Assistant professor, Gandhi Institute of Technology and Management. The seminar gave a good understanding regarding data collection techniques in conducting scientific research. Data collection as a main stage in research can shadow the quality of achieving results by decreasing the possible errors which may occur during a research project. Therefore alongside a good design for the study, plenty of quality time should be spent in the collection of data to gain appropriate results since insufficient and inaccurate data prevents assuring the accuracy of findings. On the other hand, although a suitable data collection method helps to plan good research, it cannot necessarily guarantee the overall success of the research project. Generally, data collection methods are divided into two main categories of Primary Data Collection Methods and Secondary Data Collection Methods.

Sub: Request for an approval to conduct a Seminar on “STATISTICAL TOOLS USED IN QUANTITATIVE RESEARCH”

Respected sir,

This is to inform you that the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences is planning to conduct a Seminar on “ STATISTICAL TOOLS USED IN QUANTITATIVE RESEARCH ”on 04-12-2019. The resource person for the seminar is

Dr. M. SWAROOPA RANI
MA, Ph. D
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
AVANTHI INSTITUTE OF ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY

The resource person’s lecture would enlighten all the participants about pursuing research and publications. We request you to give permission to organize the Seminar on the above mentioned date.

Thanking you

Yours Sincerely

Seminar on “STATISTICAL TOOLS USED IN QUANTITATIVE RESEARCH” organized by the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences is inaugurated by Dr. M. Swaroopa Rani, Associate Professor at Avanathi Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences. The seminar gave a good understanding regarding Statistical tools like the mean, the arithmetical average of numbers, median and mode, Range, dispersion , standard deviation, inter quartile range, coefficient of variation. The seminar has also discussed regarding the Quantitative research types and also regarding the process. Quantitative research is the process of collecting and analyzing numerical data. It can be used to find patterns and averages, make predictions, test causal relationships, and generalize results to wider populations.

A one-day seminar on Research Methodology held on 05/12/2019 is an enlightening and engaging event that brought together researchers, scholars and academicians from diverse fields. The aim of the seminar was to provide a platform for sharing insights, discussing best practices and fostering a deeper understanding of research methodologies. The core of the seminar comprised a series of workshops and interactive sessions, each focusing on different aspects of research methodology. Participants had the opportunity to delve into topics such as literature review techniques, data collection methods, statistical analysis and ethical considerations in research. Audience participation added depth to the conversations, making it a truly collaborative learning experience. Attendees left with a deeper understanding of research methodologies, a network of professional connections, and a renewed enthusiasm for their research pursuits. The success of this event underscores the importance of ongoing initiatives that promote a culture of rigorous and ethical research practices.

REPORT

Topic: "Rational Drug Use"
Speaker : Mrs. Asha Parveen
M. Pharm, (Ph.D)
Srinivasa Rao College Of Pharmacy
Meeting platform: E - classroom
Participants: Students and Faculty
No. Of Participants: 150

The seminar on Rational Drug Use aimed to provide a platform for healthcare professionals, policymakers and researchers to discuss and understand the importance of rational drug use in contemporary healthcare. The objective was to share knowledge, explore challenges and propose strategies for promoting responsible and effective medication practices. The seminar began with an insightful exploration of the definition of rational drug use, emphasizing its core principles, including appropriateness, effectiveness, safety and affordability. The Resource person highlighted the significance of evidence-based prescribing and the need for individualized treatment plans. Resource person addressed the challenges faced in achieving rational drug use, such as overprescribing, polypharmacy and limited access to essential medicines. Engaging discussions followed, proposing practical solutions, including the implementation of continuing medical education, patient education programs and regulatory measures to curb marketing practices that may influence prescribing habits. The speaker emphasized the importance of collaboration among healthcare professionals, policymakers and regulatory bodies in implementing these strategies effectively and also addressed about the Real-world case studies were presented to illustrate successful examples of rational drug use implementation. This seminar report serves as a comprehensive record of the discussions held during the event and is intended to be a valuable resource for those working towards promoting rational drug use in healthcare.

Mr. V. Uma Sankar, Head of the Department, Avanthi Institute Of Pharmaceutical Sciences started the session by addressing the students and introduced the speaker to the audience. Later the session hand-over to the speaker. The speaker started the session with greeting all the participants. The participants include students and faculty. In the beginning, the speaker gave brief knowledge about the seminar and gave a good understanding of about the importance and difference between IPR’s and Copyrights. The seminar on the importance and difference between Intellectual Property Rights (IPRs) and Copyrights was held on 22/08/2019. The event aimed to shed light on the significance of protecting intellectual property and to clarify the distinctions between IPRs and copyrights. Intellectual Property Rights play a crucial role in fostering innovation and creativity by providing creators and inventors with the necessary protection for their ideas and inventions. IPRs contribute to economic growth by attracting investments. Companies and individuals are more likely to invest in research and development when they know their intellectual property is protected. IPRs facilitate the transfer of technology by providing a legal framework for licensing and collaboration. The seminar successfully highlighted the importance of Intellectual Property Rights and clarified the distinctions between IPRs and copyrights. Attendees gained valuable insights into the role of intellectual property in promoting innovation, economic growth, and cultural preservation. As society continues to advance, understanding and safeguarding intellectual property will remain crucial for fostering creativity and protecting the rights of creators and innovators.

The seminar was conducted in Avanathi Institute Of Pharmaceutical Sciences on " IPR-guidelines For Search And Examination Of Patent Applications " On 16/10/2019, specifically focusing on the guidelines for the search and examination of patent applications. The seminar aimed to provide insights into the intricate process of evaluating patent applications and ensuring compliance with established guidelines. The primary objective of the seminar was to enhance the understanding of the participants regarding the crucial aspects of patent search and examination. The event aimed to equip attendees with the knowledge necessary to navigate the complexities of Intellectual Property law and facilitate the efficient processing of patent applications. The seminar commenced with a keynote address from Dr. T. Srinivasarao the keynote provided an overview of the significance of IPR in fostering innovation and economic development. The basics of Intellectual Property Rights, including patents, trademarks, and copyrights, were covered to establish a foundational understanding for the participants. A session dedicated to effective patent search strategies was conducted by Dr. T. Srinivasarao . Participants gained insights into various databases, tools, and techniques employed in conducting thorough patent searches. Dr. T. Srinivasarao, an experienced patent examiner, delved into the examination process. Detailed guidelines for evaluating patent applications, including novelty, inventive step, and industrial applicability, were discussed. Overall, the seminar was a resounding success in achieving its objectives and contributing to the continued professional growth of participants in the field of Intellectual Property.

Report on One - Day Seminar on “Copyright and Fair Use”

Date: 20/11/2019
Topic: “copyright and fair use”
Speaker: Mrs. Kota Padmaja
Associate Professor
HOD of Pharmacognosy and Phytochemistry
Raghu College of Pharmacy
Participants: Students and faculty
No of participants: 115

Mr. V. Uma Sankar, Head of the Department, Avanthi Institute Of Pharmaceutical Sciences started the session by addressing the students and introduced the speaker to the audience. Later the session hand-over to the speaker. The speaker started the session with greeting all the participants. The participants include students and faculty. In the beginning, the speaker gave brief knowledge about the seminar gave a good understanding of about the copyright and fair use. The one-day seminar on "Copyright and Fair Use" was held on 20/11/2019 at Avanthi Institute of Pharmaceutical sciences. The seminar aimed to provide a comprehensive understanding of copyright laws and fair use principles to a diverse audience, including professionals from various fields, artists, educators and legal experts. The first session of the seminar focused on the fundamental principles of copyright law, including:

1. Definition of copyright and its purpose.
2. Exclusive rights granted to copyright owners.
3. Duration of copyright protection.
4. Public domain works.
5. International copyright agreements.

The one-day seminar on "Copyright and Fair Use" was a valuable educational event that provided participants with a deep understanding of copyright law and fair use principles. It addressed the challenges posed by the digital age and offered practical solutions for navigating these issues. The event successfully promoted awareness and compliance with copyright laws among a diverse audience. We hope that the knowledge gained from this seminar will lead to more informed and ethical handling of copyrighted material in both professional and creative endeavors.
